

With regular care and regular road conditions, Cray offers a two year finish warranty on its wheels with chrome and painted finishes. Cray provides a five year structural warranty for wheels it manufactures that are structurally unsound because of a manufacturing defect caused by Cray that makes the wheel unfit for its ordinary purpose. Damage or issues with wheels manufactured by Cray that are not caused by, or the result of, a manufacturing defect by Cray are not covered under the warranty. Additionally, the following are expressly excluded from the warranty:

- Cray does not offer a "road hazard warranty," so any damage or issue with a wheel caused by the wheel colliding with a pothole or any other object or debris will not be covered by the warranty;
- Wheels that have been used in racing are not covered by the warranty regardless of the damage or structural unsoundness; and
- Wheels mounted on vehicles with a load rating in excess of the load rating of the wheel are not covered by the warranty regardless of the damage or structural unsoundness.
- Wheels that have been modified, repainted, or powder coated.
